Henrico County is showing a ontinued activity, many sales being losed. Mary E. Brown sold yesterday to Charles S. Sickle, the brick dwelling at the southwest corner of Park Aveue and Rowland Street. The property fronts twenty-six feet two and me-half inches and sold for $25,000. If E. Hamilton sold to D. H. Hey two brick dwellings at 2629 and 2622 West Main Street, for $8,000.

INTED STATES DISTRICT COURT. The case of Louis E. Jellade, archiicct, who drew up the plans and specifications for the Rueger Hotel against William Rueger, proprietor of the hoicle, was taken up yesterday evening in the United States District Court.
The litigation grew out of a misunderstanding as to what the building should cost. Mr. Rueger claims the architect's statements in this regard were misleading. The Jellade plans were rejected and a local architect prepared the plans on which the building was erected.
